“ A beautiful soul, words cannot express what your friendship meant to me, you always reminded me that laughter was the best medicine. There are so many things you did to help me in so many ways, I wouldn't know where to start. I am a better person for having known you. Your pain is gone, "REST IN PEACE MY FRIEND". Forever Grateful.

“ just like the other guys on this tribute page, I also worked with Vic for a long time back in the day. They said it perfectly...he kept us fed and he kept us laughing. A great man who loved keeping us as a close-knit group. As the saying goes, it really was the good ol' days.
He served his COUNTRY proudly and then served his COUNTY proudly.
Rest In Peace Vito!!!

“ Hi Grandpa!!! That's how Victor was affectionately greeted by us “young” guys everyday at work. He was also called “Skip”, because he was truly our leader in every sense of the word. Aside from being one of the funniest people I've ever met, he was genuinely one of the nicest, kindest, and and most generous people I've ever met as well. For whatever reason Vic took a liking to me and kind of took me under his wing, as he did with people before and after me. He was always pushing me to do better, helping prepare me for any tests, sharing all his knowledge, and never asked a thing in return. He truly just wanted to see me succeed as he did with anyone else he ever helped. He was a Mentor on the job, but also would share knowledge to help you in your life outside of work. We could sit and just laugh with each other all day, trading lines from some of his favorite comedies, or just basically acting like kids, he was definitely young at heart. He was just as happy talking to me about music, or sports, 2 of his other passions. The one thing I will always remember about Vic is that he ALWAYS showed up with a smile on his face and spent his day putting one on everyone else's. We'll all miss the “Mosquito King”! Until we meet again Skip, Rest In Peace.

“ I worked with a Vic for 38 years . He was the most generous person I know . He would keep the freezer filled with ice cream for everyone and would come in early to cook breakfast for the crew . He was always keeping you laughing. The attached video was Victor entertaining Marabel who was our executive assistant in the front office . I retired before Vic but I surely missed seeing him daily. May he Rest In Peace .
