“ I didn't know Michele but I know his daughter, Anna Marie and he and his wife must have been exceptional people to have raised such a wonderful daughter. I know that you are all hurting now, I have been there and I know what it feels like. But you must have wonderful memories of Michele and I know that you will carry those memories with you forever and he will live forever, in your hearts and through you. As you tell others of his life and your memories of him, you will make him come alive and stay alive, which is a wonderful thing and a gift, from him to you and from you to the rest of the world.

“ What will you grow in Paradise? May 17, 2014

*What will grow in your garden, Papa?
Tomato plants as tall as the trees,
Fields of pepper as far as the eye can see?*

*Will there be eggplants and zucchini too,
And will Mamma fry the pipoli like she used to?*

*Will you tend the garden together, you and Mamma hand in hand,
Will you be living back in Italy like you always planned?*

*Will there be squash and basilicoia for your Sunday sauce,
And will there be peace in your heart where there once was loss?*

*Can we have a picnic with Italian cards and drink wine,
Will you invite the whole family to laugh and joke and dine?*

*And where will you build your home in Paradise,
With vineyards where lots of grapes can be found?
And will the kitchen have dried peppers and hats hanging around?*

*Will it look like the rolling hills of Sant'Angelo dei Lombardi,
Can you cook your special rabbit and have a big family party?*

*Will you still be strong and firm, and be our family Capitano,
Will you still hold the grandchildren close, a mano a mano?*

*Papa, will you dance and smile and swim in the streams?
Will you eat lots of hot stuffed peppers and cool off with ice creams?*

*Do you promise to say “I Lova You!” just like we remember?
Will you keep our family close and tight,
And kiss us so tender?*

*We will have to wait and see,
For now you are safe in Jehovah's memory.*

*So until we meet again, perhaps on your farm,
We have to imagine you and Mamma walking towards us, arm in arm.*

“ Our sincerest condolences to the Matteo family. Your dad was a sweet sweet man who loved His family with all his heart but most importantly loved Jehovah God . We live for the day that we will see all of our lost loved ones in the paradise new earth.
