“ The aspect of my job at Tiffany that I most enjoy is that it is a vehicle to encounter very special people like Ann Schierloh. In addition to her exquisite taste and style, coincidentally she was also a lifelong friend to the mother of one of my own best friends. It was always a pleasure to witness Ann's wonderful generosity and learn so much about her interesting life and love for her family. Ann was also so interested in my life and my family and would share sage advice when it came to raising children. A visit from her to our store was always enjoyed by many who knew her piercing blue eyes and petite presence. We all send her family our sincere condolences, but I personally will miss her very much as my friend.##imported-begin##Jeanne Russo##imported-end##
