

Athanasios Fostiropoulos

February 8, 1934 - January 4, 2023

Athanasios Fostiropoulos, 88, of Fort Lee, formerly of New York, NY, passed away peacefully on January 4th surrounded by his loving family. Beloved husband of Alexandra. Devoted father of Eva and her husband Graham Branton, Bessie and her husband Michael Marino, and Dimitrios and his wife Jennifer Fostiropoulos. Dear brother of Marika Stavrides and the late John, Pantelis, and Sophia. Loving grandfather of Alexander and his wife Aoi, Timothy, Christopher and his wife Margot, and Andrew. They were the light of his life. Athanasios loved his family deeply and was so very proud of his Greek heritage. He will be dearly missed by all those who knew and loved him. May he rest in eternal peace. Family and friends are invited to visit on Friday, January 6th from 4-8pm at Volk-Leber Funeral Home, 789 Teaneck Road, Teaneck, NJ. Funeral Service Saturday, January 7th at 11:30am, from Volk-Leber Funeral Home, then to St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church for a 12:30pm Service.

“ It was some date back in late 1985 when my brother Andrew and myself were playing tennis on our tennis court in Woodstock Victoria we saw this man turn up at our house from inside my dad’s car. We were curious as to who it was... So my brother and i stopped playing and decided to go and see what was going on and who it was? When we went in we realised it was my mum’s uncle Tanas.. Chiche Tanas.. It was a massive shock.. Mum was overjoyed and i think she was crying.. I can’t remember.. He gave me a funny look.. He always gave me that same look each time I saw him on the few occasions i saw him over the years. He was a proud man. No better way to be. Proud of his family, proud of his village, proud of his past.. and his mother.. Buba Stana..(Christina).. who he spoke so highly of..He took interest and passion in things that many people took for granted.. We are going to miss him hard...
