

Mr. Bernard Hailperin

June 22, 2013

Hailperin, Bernard D. age 90 of Lauderhill, FL formerly of Livingston, NJ died Saturday, June 22, 2013. Beloved husband of Sheila (nee) Prince and the late Alice (nee) Zimmerman. Devoted father of Mila Hailperin-Kessler and Roy Hailperin. Dear step-father of Scott Schwartz and the late Bonnie Heitman. Loving grandfather of Joseph, David, Matthew, Joshua, Samantha, and Matthew. Dear brother of Sandra Young and the late Ed Hailperin. After serving his country in the US Army during WWII, Bernie returned from the European Theater and began his teaching career. He passionately taught English and Drama in the Newark and Parsippany public schools, although his true love was Debate. His talents and dedication won him Coach of the Year Honors in 1982. Later, Bernie would become a published author. His fictional work, "Children of Vesuvius" was published 60 years after it was written while serving in Naples during WWII. One of his greatest joys was his time spent as an Evaluator at the Paper Mill Playhouse. Later in life, Bernie would present his "Travels With Bernie" lecture and slide series to senior homes and assisted living facilities in Florida. Family and friends are invited to visit Friday 10-11AM at the Volk Leber Funeral Home, 789 Teaneck Rd., Teaneck. A service will begin at 11AM. Interment to follow at Riverside Cemetery, Saddle Brook, NJ. Memorial gifts in Bernard's name to New Jersey Advocates for Education, 71 Valley Street, Suite 303 South Orange, NJ 07079, would be appreciated by the family.

“ I graduated Parsippany Hills HS in 1983, where Mr. Hailpern taught a class in public speaking. At that time I was a very shy and unsure about my public speaking abilities. Mr. Hailpern helped me build skill and develop confidence that I could speak in public. My career as a public school administrator and my recent completion of a doctorate was in large part due to the encouragement and kindness of Mr. Hailperin.

He often talked about his experience in WWII, and and although I I was too young to appreciate the magnitude of his experience, I found his true-life stories fascinating. What an interesting, thoughtful and wonderful person

My sincerest condolences regarding this loss. Please take consolation in knowing that he made such a positive influence on many lives.

“ To the Family of Bernard D. Hailperin,
When I saw the obituary I had to respond--What a wonderful teacher with enthusiasm for the arts which has sustained me through my life. Mr. Hailperin took us to see West Side Story with Carol Lawrence and Larry Kurt in the 1960's. He also supervised a production at East Side High School in the 60's in which my husband and I were participants. How fortunate we were to have had him in our lives. I have always felt that people come into our lives to influence us and your loved one was certainly a positive influence. My husband and I are now 69 years old(a retired teacher and prosecutor)and have family of our own. Please accept our sincere condolences, and know that a life does make a difference and Mr. Hailperin definitely made a wonderfully positive influence in ours.
With sincere heartfelt warm memories of a life well lived.

I was fortunate to have Mr. Hailperin as a teacher and am proud to have been on that 1982 PHHS Speech and Debate Team. He was always cheerful and encouraged all his students to succeed. I still laugh when thinking about how animated he became when speaking so lovingly in class about Alice, Roy, Mila and of course "George" his pet monkey. He was a great guy and a major inspiration in my decision to become a lawyer. He lives on in my thoughts.
