“ Chuck, In the depths of my heart, I consider you my big brother; you already know this. My love for you is strong, vibrant, and unconditional. When you feel pain, I feel it right along with you. My heartfelt thoughts and prayers have been with you down your dark road for many months now. You, MaryAnn, and your wonderful sister, (as well as other people, I'm sure), have selflessly and continuously devoted your time and emotions to a spirited, strong, and wonderful man, determined with a fierce conviction, to fight till the end. Though this is a rough time for you and your family, your father is now at peace with our gracious Lord. My sincerest thoughts and prayers continue to go out into the cosmos for peace of his soul, as well as for all of yours, during this tiring and emotional grieving time. May the Lord bring you peace, and a strong "knowing", that your dad will now watch over you all, with the guidance of an angel. I pray this knowledge will help you, as you grieve his precious loss. Please know I am here for you, for anything, any time, now and always. God bless you....Donna##imported-begin##Donna Gebbia##imported-end##
