“ Rest In Peace my dear friend Carolyn. The Broadway community has lost one of their treasures, a true press photographer who cared. I am heartbroken. The red carpet will never be the same. My deepest condolences to her family and friends.

“ I'll always remember Carolyn's Laughter and wit. She was someone who's opinion mattered to me, I would look forward to talking with her about ; movies, plays, books, music and New York City. I was lucky to have her share her dark room with me, the joy she found in photography was obvious and her natural talent was too. My thought are with Patrica and Barbara I know how much you love her. Stay strong and know she will live in your heart forever. Love Always, Jennifer Carlson

“ Carolyn always made me laugh as we waited and waited and waited for talent to show up on the many late Broadway opening nights and Tony Awards we covered through the years. I'll miss her wit and sarcasm (and having someone to complain to), and Broadway openings will be a lot less fun without her. I'm sorry for your loss. Fondly, David Gordon
