“ My deepest condolences go out to both the Chiarello and Verrier families. Even as a little girl looking up to my big brother and all of his friends, Charlie always stood out to me as the bright star in many peoples hearts. He touched so many friends and family, and was taken much too soon. My earliest memory of him was his ingenious idea to pitch a tent in the yard of a very overcrowded shared beach house. Only Charlie right!. I understand he suffered in these last years , more than any one should, so we can only hope that God and his angels have pitched a very special tent in heaven overlooking his family and loved ones, to help them endure their loss. All our love and sympathy, Lisa Bryan and Charlie Collins.##imported-begin##Lisa##imported-end##

“ Dear Michelle and Family, we were all so deeply saddened when we received the call from my father and brother Greg about Charlie passing. Our thoughts and prayers will be with you all during this difficult time. Whenever our family talked about growing up down the street from Charlie and his family, it always seemed to bring smiles to our faces and laughter into the conversation. I have always considered Charlie one of my first and closest friends growing up, we sure stayed in trouble together!! Love and God's Blessings to you all, Phil, Perette, Caroline and Anthony###imported-begin###Phil Sabatino###imported-end##

“ Charlie was an inspiration, to his family, friends and anyone that met him, that you make your life what it is -- no matter what circumstances life deals you. Sadly it probably is 20 years since I've seen Charlie. Happily, his smile, voice and laugh are replaying in my brain like it was yesterday. Be strong Michelle and Chiarello clan, Charlie is fully well again. Sending love and my prayers. Lorene Sabatino-Graves###imported-begin###Lorene Graves###imported-end##

“ The worst part of Charlie was his kidney. The best part of Charlie was his heart. At 10:27pm on 10/27 River Dell's class of 1982 will be toasting his life, his laughter and his generous soul at our reunion in Fort Lee as well as other cities and states of the folks who can not attend. He will be missed by so many people.##imported-begin##Laurie Carloni##imported-end##
