“ Thinking about u and hadn’t heard back from u when I sent me last message. Now I realize why and I’m stunned and so saddened. U were such a bright light and I remember so fondly our days together while working at WNJU- canal47, ladies’ nights dancing in NJ clubs, and getting little sleep before heading back into the city for work the next day. Your mother’s meals were so good- I especially remember her tuna salad with potatoes and eggs. Fun day at the Jersey shore and plenty more. You were such a good friend to me as I navigated my first real job out of college and managed the highs and lows of adulting. I recall reconnecting by Facebook and hoping to see u on one of my visits to the metro area. I will miss u as so many others will as well. You always were a positive person, striving for good, u loved to dance and had a beautiful smile. U had a heart so great that everyone around u felt ur love and caring personality and family was the top priority in your life. What a blessing to have known u. May we all carry those traits too. 🥹💔. - Elisa Gribin Litchman
