“ My prayers and deepest sympathies to Elmer's wife and family. Elmer was such a good friend. We all have such good memories of him, his sense of humor, his kindness and his sweet attitude with the little kids. All that knew him received these gifts from him. We have lost a great friend and all shared this lost with his family. I am glad that I was able to visit him before his passing and know that he is smiling from heaven with that very contagious smile of his.##imported-begin##Desiree Bourne##imported-end##

“ I met Elmer when I spent time at my Tia Rosie's house in the summers. He was always very kind to me and listened to what I had to say. Not a lot of adults can do that with little kids. I'll always remember our little day trips. It has been a long time since the last time I saw him, but I heard about his condition on Saturday and immediately recalled those times. And now that he is gone, it is important that all remember those little memories of him. It keeps him alive in all of us, even though everyone is undoubtedly hurting because he is no longer physically here. I will not say that it will take that pain away, but at least you are left with something happy to hold on to, something to help you through. In the meantime, I will keep all his friends and family in mind, wishing upon them the fortitude to make it through this hard time. And I will remember him and wishing him all the best free of his suffering up there in heaven.##imported-begin##Natalia##imported-end##

“ I am deeply saddened by Elmer's passing. He was kind, gentle and one of the sweetest people that I have ever met. He will certainly be missed by those who were fortunate enough to know him. I am lucky to be one of the people that knew him.##imported-begin##Debbie Englese##imported-end##
