

Jean Ramroop-Lynch

September 5, 2023

Jean Laldai Ramroop Lynch was born on May 2, 1943, in Trinidad West Indies. The daughter of Basdeo Japsi and Rookmin Boodhooram. Her mother passed at the early age of 26 while her father lived into his seventies. Her given name Laldai comes from the Hindi word Lal which means beloved. Laldai had four brothers Ramjit, Krishna, Monilal, Narish and two sisters Kawal and Lilowatie (died in infancy). In 1962 she had her first son Leonard followed by Lindley in 1965 and finally her daughter Karen in 1969. Her husband was Lloyd Ramroop (dec) was originally from Guyana but lived in Arouca not far from Surrey Village (where my mother made her home). As a teenager, she took on adult responsibilities and was raised under the loving care of her aunts. Tantie Phoolo was the primary caretaker of my mother and her brothers and provided everything for their wellbeing.

In 1967 our Aunt Verna (Ramroop) encouraged our mother to immigrate to the US, which she did without hesitation. She arrived in New York later that same year followed by her first husband Lloyd, her sons in the spring of 1970, and finally her daughter.

As time went on mom met and married her second husband Robert Lynch whom she was blessed to spend her remaining days with. Our mother dedicated her life to her family. Her doors were opened to countless family members from Trinidad and Guyana, and she willingly sponsored many of them so they could have a better life.

Jean was a hardworking, loving, kind and caring person who always put her family first. Her children, grand and great grand were her life and she loved them wholly. She enjoyed life and like all Surrey women would not back down to anyone. A fierce defender of her loved ones a caring and compassionate mother who saw the good in everybody.

Jean Laldai is survived by her husband Bob, son Leonard, daughter Karen, grandchildren Ashley, Catherine, Lauren, Lisa, Daniel, Eric and Matthew her great grandchildren Liliana and Lia and her siblings, Monillal, Narish and Kay.

Treasured in our hearts you'll stay, until we meet again. Sleep in place.

Volk Leber Funeral Home - September 10, 2023 at 02:01 PM

“ We extend our condolences to Len, Karen, Bob and the family at this time of grief and loss. Laldai was a strong woman who overcame many obstacles, from coming to New York as an immigrant, to taking care of her family as a young widow after my cousin Lloyd died, to the sorrow of burying her son Robin. As she grappled with her own illnesses in the last few years, it was her faith in the unending goodness of the Lord that sustained her. She had discovered that the answer to Life's questions could be found in Jesus. The Bible reminds us that there is a time to live and a time to die, but the same Bible assures us of resurrection and life eternal. May your family find comfort in Jean's memory and her legacy of faith in the Lord. Love and prayers, from cousins Indra Gopaul-Daniels and David Daniels.
