“ For twenty years, John was a very present and important part of my life, someone I looked up to, learned from, and loved. I am reminded now of the song, My Grandfather's Clock, that Tina loved so well, and the lines that could have been written for him, "And it kept in its place, not a frown upon its face, And its hands never hung by its side." He was always there, ready to help in any way he could with a smile on his face.
