“ Thinking of you this late evening Kimmie, although I do think of you very often. I regret I don't have any pictures of us together. The ones I took @ work with you shielding your face, as well as, another good full shot when you were on your way to the elevator, I cannot retrieve from the folder on my computer :( You had one of us, I think, when I attended the 1st & last department picnic. How I would love to have that picture...Anyway, love & miss you much...##imported-begin##Carolyn McDaniels##imported-end##

“ Michael & "Moni"; my love , prayers & sincerest of condolences are with you both. "Kimmie"; only you I & the Lord know our relationship. I will miss you, dear heart; yet we will see each other again. I am so thankful for our times of laughter, sharing, prayers & encouragement. I wrote the following after hearing of your transition: "My friend, "Kimmie", hs grown weary of her valiant battle against the dragon called cancer. She has lain down her sword; removed her helmet; undone her shield. She was a mighty warrior..Triumphant in battle; slaying many over the years; but that dragon had an uncanny ability to ressurect itself time & time again, like a phoenix out of the fire. You fought well my friend. Your rest is well deserved. I love you Kimmie." ~ Love Carolyne, Your "nutcase" : )##imported-begin##Carolyne McDaniels##imported-end##
