“ Dear Seth,

You were in my French class a few decades ago (can it be that long ago?), but I still remember your smiling face and your dedication to learning. Now that I sadly look at the face of your dad, I realize where you got both your smile and your dedication from. I am very sorry to hear of your loss, but your father left behind a marvelous legacy in you (and your siblings). May you find comfort in happy memories of the time you spent together; cherish those memories and keep them in your heart.

I hope you are well and that life has been good to you. Wishing you peace.
