“ Pat was the heart of BCCLS. She was a force of life - a powerhouse of efficiency with a memory to match. It was wonderful to be able to call her for a quick, succinct explanation of anything at all. She knew and had the patience to respond to my questions when I really felt I should already know the answer. I envied her organizing skills and speed, and loved her great intelligence, wit, laughter & heart. Nancy Greene, Ridgewood (BCCLS Director for 35 years).

“ A real loss to the BCCLS family. Pat was an enormous help to all of us in the system.
I never had to tell her who was calling: she knew us all.

“ At intervals of several months, whenever I found myself bored or exasperated at work, I would pick up the phone. Once I reached Pat, I would tell her to pick up a BCCLS bookmark so that we could go through the library list and have a "page six" rundown of the zaniness going on. Because the funny things happening in libraries occur on both sides of the counter and Pat's quick wit and insights could make you laugh in an instant. Her laughter was my tonic many, many times over the years. It is beyond sad that I will not hear it again.

Rest in peace
