“ I haven't seen Rob since 6th grade, but heard about his passing through a friend. Even though it's been many years, I remember him well. Such a funny and friendly guy. Like so many others, we lost touch over the years, but in the short time I knew him, he left an impactful memory.
My condolences to his friends and family.

“ So many memories. Starting around 5th grade! Rob has the coolest brothers who we all looked up to. Played music and, like Rob, genuinely knew how to share their energy with others. We would hang around his house, thank you Mrs. Miller, listen to music, watch fishing shows, jump in on a song or two singing with Mike on drums, eagerly awaiting Metallica's latest release, catching snakes, hiking along streambeds, fishing at the golf course under the cover of night, stocking our tackle boxes from Zookies garage, writing book reports at the library, rocking out to Queensryche at St Joe's talent show, playing street hockey, painting the bathrooms at st Joe's, catching Faith No More, Soundgarden, opening for VoiVod a couple times, camping, visiting him at college...time passes.....we still would find the time fish in the pond by his house in oak ridge...talk a lot...listen...maybe catch a fish...and always feel better for that time together. Get together as life allowed...Listen to some music, laugh, be inspired to try something new. Rob truly 'Takes Hold of the Flame'. Now somewhere else but forever in our hearts. Thank you for being a great source of light in my life. I promise to keep it burning brighter than ever and keep passing it on. I know that would be your wish.

“ It's been a long time since I last spoke to Rob. I bumped into him randomly while working in Paterson one day. He was the kind of person that could make many years apart feel like only days. So kind, funny and genuine. I miss you old friend.

“ I am so very sorry to hear about Rob. One thing that I know will be mentioned often is he also dedicated so much of his life helping the most vulnerable.

I did not know Rob very well, but I had encountered him many times over the years in my work with the Division of Developmental Disabilities. His kind heart, people-loving spirit and professionalism made a deep impact on those around him. I am astonished at this loss and wish nothing but love, peace and healing to Maria and family. God bless his memory and may his light and love continue to shine through all those that he touched with his kindness and grace.

“ I remember Rob as such a wonderful friend of my son. I can picture him standing in my kitchen. He was always so very kind and fun for our whole family.

I'm so sorry for all who dearly love him.

I believe he'll never be far from you.

With so much sadness for your loss,
