“ *Dear Robert and Viola and families, I read with great sadness the email my brother- in -law sent me of your mother's passing. Your Mom, Mrs. Sadlier to me of course, stood out in my childhood memories as the calm in the storm of Van Buren Avenue. She always had a kind word, never failed to invite me into your childhood home to feed that goldfish that was so remarkable to me. Memories of the homes on the Jersey shore when we would go visit your family and sit in that screen room are ones I share with my children (now young adults raising their own families) and tales of how incredibly nice your mother and of course dad were are not news to my kids. I hold your parents up to my children as examples of how to act as adults, always kind, willing to help others and always interested in what you were doing. Sincerely.
