

Yolanda Lain

August 16, 2025

Yolanda DeRosso Lain was reunited with her beloved Aldo in eternal peace on August 16, 2025, at the age of 98. Born on June 8, 1927, in Fairpoint, OH, she was the third of five children born to Italian immigrants Giovanni DeRosso and Maria Pizzolato DeRosso. When Yolanda was four years old, her parents moved the family back to Northern Italy to escape the Great Depression, settling in the town of Schio, where Yolanda spent her childhood and early adult years. At age 11, she met Aldo, the boy next door, who would become the love of her life and, eventually, her husband.

In 1949, after their wedding, Yolanda and Aldo moved to the United States to begin their life together. They initially settled in Union City, NJ, before moving into a family home in Palisades Park, NJ, where they raised their four children. Once the kids were of school age, Yolanda worked outside the home in the textile industry for companies such as Interstate Rayon Yarns and Anton Robeson Textile Co. A skilled seamstress, she not only sewed clothes for her family but also crafted window drapes and home furnishings. Yolanda also had a beautiful singing voice, often heard during Mass at St. Michael's Church, just as it had been in her youth choir in Italy. Each summer, her garden would overflow with tomatoes—carefully planted and nurtured by her—that were eagerly anticipated by all who were lucky enough to receive a bag to take home.

Above all, Yolanda's greatest joy came from her home and the time spent with family. Her sisters were her closest lifelong confidants, and together they shared countless family gatherings. Whether they were ballroom dancing at the Italian Cooperative, taking trips to Atlantic City, attending weekly church bingo outings, or simply enjoying each other's company around the dining room table, Yolanda was happiest when surrounded by loved ones. She will be especially remembered for her warm hospitality—always insisting that guests sit and enjoy a meal. Her invitations to sit and eat made everyone feel welcome and could not be refused.

Yolanda was predeceased by her husband Aldo, with whom she shared 67 years of marriage, as well as her siblings Santo and his wife Nella, Angela and her husband Severino, Lydia and her husband Narci, brother-in-law John Delle Tezze, and sons-in-law Bill Bonnar and Fred Poulos. She is survived by her sister Teresa Delle Tezze; her daughters Suzy Bonnar, Lorraine Lain Jennings and her husband Stephen, and MaryAnn Poulos; and her son Aldo Jr. and his wife Roni; as well as her beloved grandchildren: Peter Bonnar and his wife Amy, Jeff Bonnar, Brian Bonnar and his fiancée Saziye Mustafa, Giovanna Poulos, Thomas Lain, and Krystan Williams and her husband Michael. Yolanda is also survived by three great-grandchildren—Emma, Adalia, and Elliot—as well as many nieces, nephews, and their children.

“ Jerry and I will always remember Yolanda as a kind and loving person who would give us tomatoes from her garden when we walked by her home in Palisades Park. She was very generous and always had a smile. Aldo and Yolanda were amazing people and those who knew them, loved them. They were the epitome of what is to be a neighbor. We will never forget the grappa that Aldo and his family would make. His grappa was legendary and not for the weary. Through the years we met many of their family members, sons, daughters, siblings, and grandchildren. All who were just as wonderful and share the same spirit and kindness. They have become dear friends as well. They are a mirror of who their parents were. Jerry and I were blessed to know Yolanda and Aldo and we will hold their memory in our hearts. Our heartfelt condolences go out to the Lain Family, our hearts go out to you all. May God's mercy give you peace during this time. Jerry Gonzalez and Noemi Quintana

“ Mrs. Lain's steadfast devotion to her family, friends and faith was an admirable virtue of woman who had much integrity. May her soul, now joyfully united with her husband, Aldo, continue their loving journey in the Afterlife.

“ She was my dear sister-in-law who welcomed me in her home ,with open arms, even before I legally became part of their family thru marriage to her brother Santo DeRosso. YOLE, as I called her, became my Italian sister! She was also an excellent wife, mother, cook, and hostess and everybody who knew her, loved her! My sincere condolences to her loving family! I love all of them! and hostess and , her brother, and I, while dating and later married, loved to visit with them and enjoy their company! YOLE, as I called her,She became like a sister to me and kept in touch even after I moved to Florida was already like a blood brother to her brother
